AN AWFUL TRAGEDY.

A Mother Kills Taree of Her Children, Mortally Wounds Two Others and Commits Suicide.

No Cause Other Than a Quarrel With Her Husband Can be Assigned for the Shoughter.

CLEVELAND, OHIO, Jan. 20 .- A horrible murder was committed here this morning betw en 7 and 8 o'clock James Cabolek is a well to-do carpenter living went to work shortly buf re 7 o'clock. The wife and mother, Anti-inette, had been out of temper at the breakfast-table, and refused to talk to new husband. Directly after breakfast she cent Henry, her filteen-year-old son, to a grocery store, a d still another son to a milk de-When they returned they could not get into the house. Going into the back yard, they saw James, the thirlenn-yearold son, in the closet blooding from sixteen wounds in his left side. They hastened away and called their oldest brother, who had gone off with the father, and returning the three boys forced an entrance to the house. They discovered Tony, an eight year-old girl, bleeding from a dozen cuts in her left side. On the floor near by were Mamie, five years old; Autoinotte, three years old, and Willie, three months old, all dead from dreadful stabs near the heart. A bloody pair of shears told the story. A hunt was made for the mother. She was found in the collar hanging from the rafters dead. She had killed her three children, mortally is juried two others and then committed suicide. The two children still alive were removed to a Daviel Desorda; 8 The phrastus Such and Poems, THE SET OF 8 VOLs., Cloth and cilt, $12.0. As a novelist, George Ellot occupies a position peculiarly her own. Her fictions are as delightful and life-like as those of Dickens or Thackeray; her delineations of character are so complete, so sharp and clearly drawn, that we feel towards the men and women of her novels as though we had known them, loved them, feared them or despised them for years; and through all her works there runs a vein of philosophic thought, conveying almost insensibly to the reader the author's wellconsidered views of right and wrong and of the problems of life. Her novels should be found in every library and in every house.
